manipulation of consciousness revisited*

What you are seeing here is an incomplete blueprint to a work which will soon be published as a non-profit and globally accessible reflection on the nature of the current forces that are now losing what little is left of their colonial power over the planet. The subtitle of the book and the book itself was inspired by the first Jedi Mind Tricks LP, which itself is based on Valerian Valdemort's 2000 page encyclopedia of the same title. And just as Buddha's mahamantra, Aum mani peme hung, is said to contain all of the teachings within these syllables, the title of this book itself is enough to reflect upon all the implications of each of these words and how this imperial society has twisted them in such a fashion as to enslave so many of us with them.

That is the nature of colonial languages and colonization, sadly.

To all of you reading this, and everyone beyond, I would like to express that this is not truly my book I am writing. Not even remotely. These realizations are the sum of not only all the conversations, exchanges and energies fostered in all my interactions with countless beings of so many ethnicities, densities and levels of consciousness on this planet and beyond, but also of all of those I can never truly be aware of with a conscious capacity purposefully restricted by nefarious forces and overlords bent on global domination, enslavement and destruction.

This is both from and for all of us.

Disclaimer:

I'm not a god, nor am I a demon or deceptive being. I'm not a divinity, a deity, a Buddha, a Bodhisattva or anything else of that nature one might assume or not for that matter, positive or negative, after reading this or knowing me in general.

Nothing even remotely close to that.

What I am, simply put, is a being who is aware of not being quite entirely human in the sense most understand that word to entail, which is most often considered 'normal', or largely ignorant of the greater scheme of 'things' or even of society's elites.

I am a mutant human like we all are in many ways, a hybrid being who is progressively awakening to the greater extent of the latent capacities which the genetic splicing and tampering we were a product of has gifted us with, according to the Sumerian myths from which the Old Testament was born, as well as so many other traditions' Wisdom...

Unfortunately, in this day and age too many people live life assuming they are no more than evolved apes trapped in a prison.

Consequently, since belief is the key to nearly everything essentially speaking

(and there is no thing, really. it's all energy and emptiness), if one's core beliefs are that drastically limited it should come as no surprise that their conscious capacity and productivity are equally so.

Autobiographical Prologue

(not that this matters or anything)

My name is Anton Iorga, and I am a 37 year old PhD/postdoctoral candidate at the U of Alberta, an anti and decolonial university teacher, a Rainbow/Indigo youth mentor, activist, poet, graffiti & hip-hop artist with over 100 albums released (half of which I have now archived) and many more in the works and unpublished, a translator of 2 bestselling novels with 3 more up-and-coming, an editor, an orthomolecular medicine & shamanic initiate, the co-founder of a worldwide artistic/alternative education safespace collective (Mutant Akademy) and anticolonial resource website/music label (Revolt Motion), as well as a soulmate and proud parent of a Rainbow Warrior Child.

However, in this Western colonial/imperialist and overly rational system, I have been diagnosed since over a decade ago as bipolar, schizophrenic, ADHD, PTSD and SAD and psychiatrists have repeatedly locked me up, tortured me, forced toxic medications onto me and labelled me as mentally disabled and unfit to be a citizen, until I proved them all wrong and became what I am today with the help and support of my activist single mother, who nursed me back to health when no one else believed in me and all seemed lost. A large part of what I am today I also owe to my child's mother, although we are now apart, who predicted all these events now unfolding in my life as well as the success of my endeavors both professionally and academically in multiple tarot readings, and countless other past soulmates, friends, watchers, ancestors and family members who were always there to support me in difficult times. To all of you, I am infinite grateful, beyond any words or expressions of this reality, especially within this hegemonic & genocidal language which is not my own.

I am now an activist and a voice for many out there who cannot or are not allowed to properly express the abuse they are suffering from this White Supremacist, Neocolonial, Elitist Heteropatriarchal slave labor system we call Western society and liberal democracy.

The non-profit website and music label I am a part of, www.Revolt-Motion.com, has tons of free links, poetry, esoteric scriptures, charity links, orthomolecular medicine tips, various music and hip-hop albums as well as many other resources to learn more about how to keep yourself aware and healthy as a catalyst for lasting change and evolution in a profoundly sick society. All we ask in return is that you pay it forward, share these resources with others and help out in your local/global communities to make the world a better place in whatever way you can.

Why I'm an Arrogant and Delusional Nutcase (No, seriously though)

Friend 1

(as a response to a post that facebook "friends" of mine who weren't concerned with helping to make the world a better place and didn't care about contributing to the mass destruction of Gaia with their living, eating and entertainment habits and material possessions should immediately remove themselves from my "friends" list)

A lot of the stuff you write seems outright delusional and crazy to me but you can believe what you want. You say you have reached a higher state of mind and you exist on a higher plane, you are an untouchable ninja monk with the wisdom of ten lifetimes (Examples) You can tell me you are all knowing and a god because it would seem along the lines of what you normally say at this point. You are saying that we should join a club where we can reinforce each others beliefs yet you are with this very post trying your hardest to get rid of anyone not supporting your way of thinking. So you are basically saying that if we are not yes men and followers of your school of thought we should go ahead and remove ourselves from your friends list and continue being "sheep". (I never said this either, I literally despise the concept of "sheeple", I find it quite ignorant and disrespectful to those domesticated/enslaved animals).

You have the gift of language like few I've seen but you are not very open sometimes. It's in your nature to try and spread your beliefs and convictions but it has always been in mine to challenge this kind of thing. I don't think you need to get rid of people, I think a lot of the stuff you write is interesting and thought provoking, not everything is batshit crazy. Besides I fucking love your musical talent, not everyone is your enemy just because they don't think like you.

Friend 2

Classical response, exactly what I was trying to outline in some degree, a higher being shouldn't be affected by differences of perspectives and understandings; once they do, it only exhibits that your state of awareness is binary due to the dogmatism of whatever so-called pathway one finds to be right and proper.

My Response

To both of you, let me perhaps further clarify since it is reasonable that I should expect you to make certain assumptions of me as I seem to have done that to many of you, personally and beyond, based on what appears to be the reality of our beings as reflected in binary code transmitting artificial projections of slices of our various levels of consciousness as we shape-shift from one emotional state and vibrational frequency to another, Harmony & Disharmony, whether in disembodied music or even worse, through unoriginal printed lettering that not only conveys none of the artistry implied in poetic language spoken but also very few of its emotions, and often in such a conflicting way as to directly contradict their original counterparts. It's thus quite easy to see how me writing this or anything else could easily be misinterpreted from endless personal perspectives based on your understanding of who you think I portray myself to be. But in the end my music does speak for itself, as do my interactions with people and my daily actions and practices as well. I have a lot of academic and logical credibility in all I claim in society in general, even a government controlled one, because I have met its own highest standards of intellectual, academic and professional proficiency as a multilinguistic polymath and activist poet/scholar and practically everything I do is professionally documented and legally verifiable. I encourage you to do your own research on anything I do, but do it as thoroughly as your claims to be unbiased and multifaceted, consider all arguments and perspectives, yet realize that some encompass many others, while others practically none. This is like comparing quantum physics to rigid, traditional science. One speaks of infinite multiverses and realities co-existing through the creative power of imagination and the other claims to have proven the exact opposite, that only one reality exists. Both of these are true, but one denies the other's co-existence while the first lives in harmony with it. What I tell people I am is no different than Wim Hof (The Iceman) telling everyone they are superhumans in potential and scientifically proving it by getting tested and training people to do the things he does to prove they can be real for anyone, but of course if we compare my explaining this to you now versus us calmly discussing any of these matters in person and fully experiencing who we are in a natural biochemical, psycho-social and physical interaction of friendship versus this different reality we live through the internet, its easy to see how all of us can get carried away in the creative passion of our arguments. Also, another thing I would like to add in response to what you said when you said I was asking for Yes Men and trying to spread my beliefs... you forget Im actually trying to spread ALL the beliefs and give every reality and option for people to choose from, in order for them to be able to consciously make a wiser choice in regards to minimizing suffering for all beings we are involved with in our many lives. These are not simply “my” beliefs, they are in many cases the ancient and ancestral beliefs of countless cultures, civilizations and generations of beings beyond quantifying, so by assuming these are simply my beliefs I'm imposing remember to check if your own are most respectful of all beings, including those from all these cultures and backgrounds which Western Eurocentric rationality, science and imperialism have reduced to the status of dubious myths and superstitions like the first anthropologists examining and classifying human beings as inferior or superior... or is it that perhaps you might realize that your own beliefs could in fact be the ones who reveal themselves to truly be the personal opinion of a minority of very powerful beings trying to be imposed in a much more subversive and insidious fashion by claiming rational, logical and scientific supremacy over mystical reality, myths and oral traditions?

No one answered back anything after that, and the thread ended.

My Life is a lot like a conspiracy theory movie plot at this point, even more so since I've written this and many more attempts have been made on my life as well as my security and health, I've been forcefully restricted and medicated again but thankfully I made it out with logical discussions and patients and psychiatry and this system in this nation have evolved significantly in the past times since I began this... It feels like I could easily write a comic book about my existence, hence the creation of Mutant Academy really... I likely won't be able to get to Mabo/Oceania, the US, UK or any other neocolonial/capitalist country before a global revolution occurs because the Canadian federal government falsified multiple entries in my criminal record, and it's not a misprint or a mistaken identity...

When I was driving to my home town to get the court documents a while back to prove that those records were wrong, my car flipped off the road at 100 km/h in the middle of nowhere while I was driving perfectly straight, landed full throttle on the roof and slid for a while as the roof significantly caved in on impact (and should logically have crushed me to death had I been in the passenger seat), all the windows and windshields blew apart, the doors were crushed and bent really badly to the point where I couldn't open any, but somehow I made it out totally fine because of yoga and cold training and had just enough space to wiggle out hanging upside down through the crushed window frame in the broken glass, and luckily there was a small town 5 kms away so I didn't freeze to death, since I don't wear shoes, socks, or any winter gear or clothes. So I towed my car back with AMA 500 kms to the original owner after cancelling 911 and talking to the cops (who thought I stole a police cruiser and graffitied the Hell out of it before I crashed it), bought another one the same night and transferred the hood, trunk and wheels of the old one with the graffiti on them, then came back to the urban ashram I co-manage in my city and went for my first date/supper with a future soulmate named after the Gnostic Goddess of Wisdom (Sophia) the next day, and we spent the next week together barely sleeping, talking about everything too many people seem to avoid, rediscovering tantra & falling in Love...

I left again the week after that to finally go get those court papers again, and around the same area my last accident happened, I came a split second away from crashing into a giant construction vehicle that was parked in the middle of the highway for no reason and barely avoided it. When I made it to the courthouse, I found out all the original court documents for 2 different criminal convictions had been falsified as well to corroborate my falsified record, 3 years apart with completely different judges and prosecutors. So now I'm trying to get in touch with my lawyer from 12 years ago to see if he somehow remembers after hundreds of other clients what my actual original sentences were. 2 nights later my car got "possessed" in a thick fog and the gas pedal stayed pressed down and the brake wouldn't work for about 10 minutes, then when the fog subsided suddenly all worked fine again and I was able to slow down and regain control...

Usually, when supernatural forces aren't mysteriously at work to shorten my existence, I'm around the urban ashram I live in or at my office/studio at the University of Alberta in the Modern Languages & Cultural Studies Department finishing my interdisciplinary PhD on activist diasporic Indigenous poetry as the evolution of storytelling, and a postdoctoral thesis on the rebirth of World Wisdom Literature from a Non-binary/Indigenous perspective, I was teaching FSL (formerly ESL as well) & graffiti from an anticolonial perspective at what is systemically considered to be of the top 100 universities on the planet & did more conferences/lectures/publications in a year than many tenured neocolonial academics attempting to discredit me did in their entire existences until I took a sabbatical of compassion recently to reconnect with family & Nature offgrid & develop other Akademies out East in prevision for the coming events of the end of this His-story; I co-manage a worldwide youth safespace collective called Mutant Akademy based on the X-Men premise that we're all mutants with suppressed abilities through pyscho-social, biochemical and electromagnetic manipulation on various socio/politico/economic/religious/technological levels in order to invert the Earth's natural energy grid and drain its resources as well as enslave, brainwash and/or slaughter all who resist this process...

and yet some people still try to tell me I'm "mentally ill" and I need help being "normal" again.

But as Krishnamurti said it best, "it is no measure of health to be well adjusted to a profoundly sick society". Really though.

We have over a dozen active & semi-active academies and affiliates across the planet right now and I was supposed to be in Oceania to help with 3 more since 8 months ago but because of this criminal record shit I ended up missing 2 worldwide gatherings of revolutionary mutant scientific/academic/artistic minds I was paid to speak/do workshops/poetry at promoted by David Suzuki (the main one is called NewKind Festival, the other is Ahimsa, both of which are vegan & zero trace festivals), as well as a countrywide tour of high schools to promote these concepts and Mutant Akademy, as I've been doing locally and across Canada... in the past years I've had many other friends, activists & non-profit organizations contact me mentioning they either want to open new Akademies or be listed as affiliates, and in a few months or so I will be finishing setting up another one in Salt Spring Island in BC after an artist residency which is one of the most powerful leyline crossings on the planet and has a Vajrayana temple built on top of a Quartz crystal mountain based on a lama's vision which I am working with as well, and was prophecied by Mahariishii Mahesh Yogi to be the future center from which World Peace & Harmony would emerge...

Orthomolecular Medicine

The right balance of healthy foods, a wild, non-commercial (no dairy & meat) & holistic diet, natural chemical compounds, vitamins & minerals is essential to a proper balance in Life. Dr. Abram Hoffer & Dr. Linus Pauling, 2 Nobel Prize laureate doctors that cured cancer & chemical imbalances of all sorts from schizophrenia to bipolar, depression, etc. with the use of Megavitamin Therapy, pioneered Molecular Biology & Orthomolecular Medicine, the latter which is the correct balance of all these previous elements, including massive doses of vitamins, Omega 3s, and superfoods (1-5 grams a day of each main compound for those with brain chemical imbalances, namely Vitamins B3, C, D, Spirulina & Omega 3s).

Orthomolecular is a term that comes from ortho, which is Greek for "correct" or "right," and "molecule," which is the simplest structure that displays the characteristics of a compound. So it literally means the "right molecule". Two-time Nobel Prize winner, and molecular biologist, Linus Pauling, Ph.D., coined the term "Orthomolecular" in his 1968 article "Orthomolecular Psychiatry" in the journal "Science". Orthomolecular medicine describes the practice of preventing and treating disease by providing the body with optimal amounts of natural, organic substances.

In this era of agnostic Western medicine, falsely empirical science & toxic corporate pharmaceuticals, it is important to remember that doctors are not independent healers. They are corporately sponsored businessmen who have specific interests in prescribing certain products they are well-paid for, regardless of the health outcome for you. As Dr. Abram Hoffer quotes, Big Pharma in the US alone in the early 2000s spent an average of 20 billion dollars a year promoting their products, which is far more than they spend on research, and this budget has nearly doubled since then. That's 20 billion dollars, which is to say 20 000 million dollars a year, in the US alone, just to PROMOTE their products to doctors, pharmacies and hospitals to make sure they sell and prescribe them. It should come at no surprise then that so many of us have been grossly overprescribed a gigantic cocktail of meds to "solve" side effects from other meds that "help" with the other side effects from those other meds... and trust me I speak from experience, and have MANY other friends in the same predicament.

Daily Regimen for Optimal/Ideal Health

-Avoid commercial & processed foods as much as possible, especially commercial meat, eggs & dairy derivatives, unless they are wild and non-suffering based, such as in Indigenous traditions and hunting with deep respect for the animal's spirit. Free range eggs just mean they are stuffed in small rooms without cages but still can't move, and male baby chicks get ripped apart to shreds in high speed grinders when they are born because all they want are hens to lay more eggs. Like many Buddhist monks, exceptions can be made when food is about to go bad and has not been specifically prepared for or purchased by you, but any food imbued with death and suffering will either cause you enormous suffering or predatory pleasure, both of which are unhealthy extremes to be avoided (Hence the expression, "You are what you eat". There is a clear reason why the word "predator" when applied to humans refers only to pedophiles, serial killers, rapists and other such evil beings... you cannot feed off of the suffering of any being and be a healthy, enlightened/endarkened being. Vegans are not predatory. Indigenous peoples hunting and praying to their totems are not predators either.

B3/Niacin/Nicotinamide (Nicotine naturally occurring in organic tobacco is a form of vitamin B3)

-start with 500mgs daily, will cause massive blood influx to the brain and body and cause momentary itchiness, redness of skin and heat similar to a sunburn (15-30 mins), once you get used to it and take it regularly this will fade significantly (twice a day makes it almost disappear)

Build up dosage in 500 mg increments every 2-3 weeks if tolerated, until you reach a plateau of mental health which is optimal. (Up to 6-10 grams daily if needed, I take 4gs)

Vitamin C (natural sources, ideally made from rosehips)

-start with 3000mgs daily, build up in similar fashion by 500mg increments till optimal level is reached, up to 6-10 grams.

Omega 3s (not fish oil, those are expensive and often deteriorated and stale as research shows)

Flax/Chia/Hemp seeds, ground or soaked for optimal absorption, 15-50 grams a day of either or all three which equates to 3-10 grams of Omega 3s, triggers highly efficient brain activity and helps with heart health.

Spirulina/Chlorella/Nutritional Yeast (NY is a cheese supplement, tastes like aged cheddar)

Very high in B12 (boosts energy and vitality) and protein content (60-70%), and spirulina/chlorella are basically the Ocean's most efficient multivitamins and superfoods, containing countless elements in very large doses.

Natural Antipsychotics/Sedatives

If your brain is racing, you have trouble focusing or sleeping and life seems nightmarish far too often like it does with me, try some fair trade & organic natural herbs and medicines from local/independent sources to calm yourself down in a healthy fashion: ashwaganda, lemon balm & holy basil (tulsi), chamomile, skullcap, valerian root, passionflower, St. John's wort, sassafras bark & extract (this is what MDMA is artificially synthesized & chemically compounded from), kratom (good for muscle pain & getting rid of opioid/hard drug addictions), kava kava, blue/white/sacred Lotus/Lily (Lucid dream herbs)

Any megadoses/shamanic doses of other natural vitamins such as B Complex, D, Folic Acid and many others like Choline & Inositol (Vitamin B8) can also be quite beneficial for optimal mental balance. Any fair trade superfoods you can get for specific nutritional or psychic/mental needs such as superfruits, Mycelium (Reishi, Chaga, etc) Maca, Mucuna, Ginseng, Ginko Biloba, Kaka (Cacao), ancient grains, or other natural chemical complexes such as DMAE Bitartrate, various adaptogens and natural nootropics are in fact part of the hidden Holy Grail of homo noeticus nutrition, or the evolution of humanity into higher consciousness.

Dr. Linus Pauling (biography)

Linus Carl Pauling was born in Portland, Oregon, on 28th February, 1901, the son of a druggist, Herman Henry William Pauling, who, though born in Missouri, was of German descent, and his wife, Lucy Isabelle Darling, born in Oregon of English-Scottish ancestry.

Linus attended the public elementary and high schools in the town of Condon and the city of Portland, Oregon, and entered the Oregon State College in 1917, receiving the degree of B.Sc. in chemical engineering in 1922. During the years 1919-1920 he served as a full-time teacher of quantitative analysis in the State College, after which he was appointed a Teaching Fellow in Chemistry in the California Institute of Technology and was a graduate student there from 1922 to 1925, working under Professor Roscoe G. Dickinson and Richard C. Tolman. In 1925 he was awarded the Ph.D. (summa cum laude) in chemistry, with minors in physics and mathematics.

Since 1919 his interest lay in the field of molecular structure and the nature of the chemical bond, inspired by papers by Irving Langmuir on the application of the Lewis theory of the sharing of pairs of electrons between atoms to many substances. In 1921 he suggested, and attempted to carry out, an experiment on the orientation of iron atoms by a magnetic field, through the electrolytic deposition of a layer of iron in a strong magnetic field and the determination of the orientation of the iron crystallites by polishing and etching the deposit, and microscopic examination of the etch figures. With Professor Dickinson, he began in 1922 the experimental determination of the structures of some crystals, and also started theoretical work on the nature of the chemical bond.

Since his appointment to the Staff of California Institute of Technology, Professor Pauling was elected Research Associate in 1925; National Research Fellow in Chemistry, 1925-1926; Fellow of the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation, 1926-1927 (through this last he worked in European Universities with Sommerfeld, Schrödinger, and Bohr); Assistant Professor of Chemistry, 1927-1929; Associate Professor, 1929-1931; Professor, 1931, when he was the first recipient of the American Chemical Society Award in Pure Chemistry - the Langmuir Prize - and Chairman of the Division of Chemistry and Chemical Engineering, and Director of the Gates and Crellin laboratories of Chemistry, 1936-1958. In 1963, he was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize.

Pauling is a member of numerous professional societies in the U.S.A. as well as in many European countries, India, Japan and Chile. Awards, medals, and honorary degrees were showered upon him in America and Europe, and in addition he was elected Rationalist of the Year for 1960 and Humanist of the Year for 1961. Several books have come from his pen, ranging from his most famous one The Nature of the Chemical Bond, and the Structure of Molecules and Crystals (1939, 1949, 1960) via General Chemistry (1947, 1953), which was translated into nine languages, to No More War! (1958, 1959, 1962).

The subjects of the papers he published reflect his great scientific versatility: about 350 publications in the fields of experimental determination of the structure of crystals by the diffraction of X-rays and the interpretation of these structures in terms of the radii and other properties of atoms; the application of quantum mechanics to physical and chemical problems, including dielectric constants, X-ray doublets, momentum distribution of electrons in atoms, rotational motion of molecules in crystals, Van der Waals forces, etc.; the structure of metals and intermetallic compounds, the theory of ferromagnetism; the nature of the chemical bond, including the resonance phenomenon in chemistry; the experimental determination of the structure of gas molecules by the diffraction of electrons; the structure of proteins; the structure of antibodies and the nature of serological reactions; the structure and properties of hemoglobin and related substances; abnormal hemoglobin molecules in relation to the hereditary hemolytic anemias; the molecular theory of general anesthesia; an instrument for determining the partial pressure of oxygen in a gas; and other subjects.

Dr. Abram Hoffer (autobiography)

I have lived a full, interesting and creative life supported by my family and many friends and irritated and spurred on by the hostile criticisms of a group of psychiatrists representing APA and NIMH. Since they did not know me personally I never took it personally although I must admit I would have preferred had they been supportive. I give my critics full credit for having delayed the full introduction of orthomolecular medicine into the medical world and for having denied life, health and happiness for innumerable patients. Supporters of old paradigms never realize how much damage they do by their remarkable rigidity and adherence to old theories.

I was born on a farm in Southern Saskatchewan in 1917, completed High School in a rural school, my PhD at University of Minnesota and Medical degree at University of Toronto. By the time I got my first job I was 33 years old, had three children and was totally fed up with being a student. The last thing in the world I wanted to do was to become a psychiatrist, then the lowest branch of medicine. My wife Rose put up with these long student years while she brought up our three children. Bill became one of the world's best antiquarian book experts. He died 6 years ago from lung cancer. John is a Professor of Medicine at McGill University in Montreal a great clinician and researcher into nutrition, and Miriam is dietitian at Women College hospital in Toronto and recently published her very good book Fueling Body, Mind and Spirit. Rose died in August 2001 and since then I am alone but absorbed with my family and my work. I have the support of remarkable friends and scientists and all of us working together will eventually overhaul medicine back to its interest in nutrition and in nutrients.

My work with schizophrenia and later in developing orthomolecular psychiatry depends on a series of events that possibly cannot ever occur again. I began to work for the Government of Saskatchewan in July 1, 1950, to organize a research division in psychiatry. The government was very hopeful that this would help them bring our mental hospital into the twentieth century. Our two mental hospitals were classed in 1954 as among the three worst in the world by Dr. John Weir, Medical Director of the Rockefeller Foundation. My chief was very supportive because he trusted and liked me even though he did not understand much about what we were doing. Dr. Humphry Osmond joined us from England. He was a refugee from the stiff conservative research intellectual attitude of academic psychiatry in England. He and John Smythies had formulated their M hypothesis of schizophrenia which was that it was possible that in the body of these patients there was a chemical with the psychological properties of mescaline and somehow related to adrenaline. Osmond brought this idea to us in Saskatchewan in the fall of 1951, and to me it made a tremendous amount of good sense. It gave us a map to follow in pursuit to the elusive schizophrenic toxin. I was Director of Psychiatric Research and was given full control. I knew no psychiatry, which was a major stroke of luck because I did not know that what we were trying to do was impossible. We had no medical school, another stroke of luck because we had no one who could countermand the direction I wanted to follow. Our team developed the adrenochrome hypothesis, which stated that adrenalin was oxidized to adrenochrome and this caused the disease. It was the first super oxidation hypothesis in medicine and it called for certain biochemical tricks to reverse this oxidation. We developed our research program with the help of the Rockefeller Foundation and showed that adrenochrome is an hallucinogen and showed how it could be made and studied. Later it was found in the body and is today receiving serious consideration as an element in many degenerative diseases of the brain. But we also wanted to treat our patients more effectively. All we had was ECT.

We deduced from our biochemical theories that large doses of vitamin B-3 and vitamin C might be therapeutic. We obtained a large supply of pure crystalline niacin, niacinamide, ascorbic acid and riboflavin. Our first patient Ken was a catatonic schizophrenic in the mental hospital run by Dr Osmond. He had had insulin coma and also ECT and had been left in a coma and was dying. We decided that he must be our first patient to be given niacin and hoped he would not be our first victim. We used a stomach tube and gave him a large dose of niacin and ascorbic acid. He survived. The next day he sat up and drank it and thirty days later he was well. He was discharged and remained well. We were very fortunate. It is essential that the first patient one treats with any new treatment responds and he did. We then knew that we had something but our conviction was not great. After six double blinds, thousands of patients I have treated since then, and dozens of open clinical studies, I am convinced that what I saw in 1952 did represent a new way of treating these patients. The question is why do we need double blinds, which never initiate anything and merely consume tons of money and time and do very little to further progress in medicine. Under my direction, we did the first double blinds in psychiatry and I felt perfectly justified in also being one of the first to criticize this method.

The adrenochrome hypothesis has been a map that we have followed since then and it has been remarkably effective in directing our investigations in to fruitful areas of research. These include the discovery of the mauve factor, psychedelic therapy, special clinical tests for schizophrenia such as the HOD and EWI test, the discovery that niacin lowers cholesterol levels, better housing for patients, better and more humane treatment of patients and more. Our research, and the use of mega doses of vitamins led to Linus Pauling's formulation of Orthomolecular Psychiatry and Medicine. And I now know a lot more psychiatry than I did when I first started so many years ago.

Spice is Life (Literally)

No wonder turmeric is one of my favorite spices and I even drink elixirs made out of it, I just drank a liter of it this morning and I see it listed as one of the most potent superfoods of Life... If you want to be more than human you have to watch all of your foods... Spices are literally medicine, and in North America people are more sick and unhealthy than almost anywhere else because SO much food lacks all the healthiest spices, especially in terms of pungent ones like curry, hot peppers, ginger or garlic... My great uncle ate a raw head of garlic a day, and he lived on his house chopping wood for fire and working everyday till he died at 96... Almost all my family on my father's side died in their mid 90s or more, and none of them ever ended up in nursing homes except for one aunt for the last few months of her life... This is only the beginning of what the norm for life health and expectancy will be worldwide when we have more spices in our lives...

Epigenetics

"When you heal yourself, you are healing your ancestors". I got shivers the first time I read that. It is so true, epigenetics are a portion of our genetic coding which is literally rewritten when we experience events like trauma. These traumas can be passed down to grandchildren and beyond. These same portions of genetic code are also observably rewritten when we fully heal through various avenues including therapy, meditation, and new treatments using mushrooms and MDMA/sassafras to cure PTSD and so many other forms of so-called mental disorders which can also potentially oppositely be fostered into extreme creativity and productivity when energies are properly channeled and healed.

No wonder so many of us were born holding so much sorrow, but never forget we are rewriting ourselves, our stories, our collective heart <3.

Fia Felix Fae, multiversal polymath

When you shift your actions/path/beliefs in the present and become a different person you're essentially disassociating from certain colonial/defective ancestral lineages who created those problematic/evil beliefs/actions/patterns and reassociating with different more evolutionary ones which better reflect your current state of being, thus also shifting into different quantum future possibilities and rewriting your mythological/actual DNA & genetic material. This is where the expression "Wow you look like a totally different person" comes from.

You actually are.

Tantric Synchronicities

I've been wanting to study and practice tantra for over a decade, but somehow me being me and never wanting to study anything, coupled with the fact that I never had the discipline to be able to balance my passion and pleasure sexually, I figured it was probably never gonna happen. It was one of those lofty goals in my mind alongside things like becoming a monk in Tibet for a year, a Sadhu in India, a martial arts expert, a samourai or a yogic master... One of those dreams you fantasize about (quite literally), but realize is probably never going to happen for you. I mean, I lost my virginity when I was 27, had only a handful of romantic partners in my life and wasn't generally the kind of guy to last very long at anything unless I was really passionately interested in it... So the idea of having intense erotic yoga and multidimensional symbiosis for hours and multiple orgasms without ever physically releasing energy sounded like a dream to me...

Then I met my greatest twin flame, literally named after the Goddess of Wisdom as I previously mentioned, and fell in Love so deeply that the first time we even held hands in bed I felt like a kid that got asked out for the first time. An hour later we were snuggling and kissing after they asked me permission, and that eventually led to a lot more... In my mind I was panicking because I was thinking, they're so beautiful and I'm so attracted to them physically there's no way I'm even going to last 20 seconds, this is probably going to be pretty disappointing to them... Yet lo and behold, we ended up just naturally making Love, and fueled by passion and a desire to make this as amazing and worthwhile as I possibly could for them and me every time I came too close to an orgasm I slowed down and took a short break, focusing on the rest of their body and needs instead, telling them how much I loved them, how amazing they were and how I had never felt anything like this before... And it worked... By the time I finally let go and felt the orgasm reverberating through my body & soul, nothing came out magically, and I was literally ready to go again 30 seconds later... And again, and again, till I finally reached climax and fell on the bed exhausted with them and we both kissed and agreed this was one of the most amazing moments we had ever experienced in our lives...

And every day after that for a week literally became another chapter of tantra practice for me...

So the main teaching I got from all of this is, like Krishna says to Arjuna in the Bhagavad Gita -and Krishna is reputed to be one of the greatest tantric lovers in history- Jnana Yoga (Knolwedge, studying books) is great, but Bhakti Yoga is the supreme form of consciousness, that is, Devotion to the Goddess/Godhead and seeing this embodied within each being around you, especially your Lover/soulmate. Tantra without true passion, Love and respect cannot be true tantra. Real tantra in my humble opinion comes first and foremost from having a symbiotic balance between your own desires and needs and those of your partner, and being so devoted to them and what they need/want from you that those needs and wants become your own greatest desires and divine duties...

12 Jewels Revisited

Hydrogen is the simplest and most primordial of the Elements, which the Sun is primarily composed of in its combustion... Hydro-gen literally means born from Water as my bredren Metacaum Evans pointed out to me, because Water is H₂O, Hydrogen and Oxygen, which when combusted create Fire... the heat exuded from this fiery astral body creates melanin in skin, which is the primordial source of Knowledge in biological lifeforms, and Knowledge is also the First of the 12 Jewels from which all others are born... the balanced application of Knowledge leads to Wisdom, which in turn allows you to first Under, then Over, then Innerstand... once you achieve symbiotic Innerstanding, this will bring you Freedom, from which you can create Justice and Equality/Equity... after this you can proceed to offer this Food both to yourself and others, as well as Clothing both metaphorically and literally made up of all of these elements and gems deciphered, which will offer you Shelter from the illusions of this 3rd density holographic matrix... once all of this is achieved, all that is left is Love, Peace & Happiness, & everything beyond that they foster into infinity...

Faith is believing in what you Hope for. Knowledge is knowing what you believe to be true. Wisdom is the symbiotic application of Knowledge. Innerstanding is living Wisdom within. Over and understanding is the balance. Freedom is detachment from expectations and possessions. Justice is Equality for like minds, Equity for victims and reparations for the predators to make... True Food is pure energy and realizing our physical sustenance is much more psychic and spiritual in fact, it cannot be born from torture and enslavement or all these abilities dwindle or corrupt... Clothing is a great part of what makes us shape-shifters, non-profit/recycled clothing is godbody armor that enhances your auric field... The original Shelter is Nature, and your dwelling is a temple, whether body or physical space you reside in... True Love is Unconditional but must also be born from all the previous jewels to be most healthy... Peace is not the disappearance of War, it is the symbiosis of both into artistic and supernatural purpose between consenting nations or peoples... Nonviolence/Ahimsa does not mean Nonaction. Happiness is what is attained once all of the previous have been applied, & you are ready to journey on with all these jewels and gems to share with your truest friends...

Peace to Nolan Crenshaw for fostering this conversation with me.

HIP-HOP...

Hydrogen-Iodine-Phosphorous, Light which fosters Darkness/Knowledge that heals wounds (Iodine) and illuminates the mind (Phosphorous)... to be Hip is to be intelligent, aware...

Hydrogen-Oxygen-Phosphorous, Fire born from Water which gives us Air/Breath that illuminates the soul and causes it to eternally rotate/move, powering our minds and physical shells... Hop is the movement, metaphorically and literally, of our souls and bodies which is created from this intelligent awareness born from the music...

Knowledge Reigns Supreme Over Nearly Everyone.

Belief is Key, as are Intentions & Perspectives

Belief is the key to practically anything in existence, literally. Many people sorely underestimate its supreme importance. If you believe in ghosts, your vibrational frequency will start shifting until you eventually see and hear them. If you do not, you most likely never will. If you believe you are a mutant with numerous extrasensory perceptions, these abilities will steadily develop until they become a daily occurrence. If you believe in magic and mystical realities, miracles and supernatural beings, they will suddenly be all around you and that is all your Life will be. My Life and countless others around the globe are living proof of this. Those who deny this reality as factual simply fail to grasp that by being skeptical of these concepts they are literally blocking themselves from ever experiencing them rather than disproving their existence. It's very basic logic really.

Whatever bardo/density you believe you are in, you will be in eventually.

Whatever gifts you believe you have, you will have with persistence. The same goes for curses. However, lots of good karma breeds a heavy dharma and many difficult responsibilities in the future; similarly, lots of bad karma creates a heavy karmic debt, which will then need to be counterbalanced by a lot of good karma, which in the end will breed an even heavier dharma... Doing things which emanate from pure devotion, heart and spirit without thought for any karmic repercussion is the only way to end our own personal samsara and that of the Cosmos, whether in the deva or Asura realms or any other human, angelic, godly or demonic bardo. To a demon, Hell looks like Heaven and Heaven looks like Hell, vice-versa for an angel... to a bodhisattva, both of these are mental constructs to transcend... to a quantum theorist, all realities co-exist and are intrinsically interconnected, even completely paradoxical ones... that is the conundrum of Life that Siva and Kali eternally dance... that Destruction and Suffering must constantly occur in order for Creation and Peace to exist... breathing, eating, & living within this current samsara inevitably all entail the destruction/transmutation of other Life to sustain us...

Quantum Quandaries

The difference between humans and divinities mythologically is that humans haven't mastered the countless alternate quantum realities which their minds generate on both conscious and subconscious levels and which are born from dreams, fears, uncertainty, sadness and other mixed emotions, largely because they're not consciously aware of them due to their restricted existence and mental capacity in a holographic 3rd density illusion designed to entrap them and virtually nullify their spiritual evolution... Whereas true divinities and enlightened/endarkened beings, because of their cosmic supraconscious capacity and spiritual discipline, have expertly and nearly flawlessly balanced every thought and energy which emanates from their mind and spirit, allowing for a perfect symbiosis with the Cosmos and unparalleled creative powers, such as the instant transmutation of divine thought and speech into physical and ethereal matter... Most humans, in this day and age, cannot yet attain this state because astral and galactic alignment have been purposefully and deceitfully skewed through disharmonious frequencies meant to infinitely distort temporal perceptions into unipolar and linear reality, in such a fashion that we have so far only very slowly moved towards an illusory ideal synchronicity in the Satya Yuga, which is then once again endlessly looped into progressively worse and worse chaos and destruction that can only be temporarily remedied with another makeshift "Golden Age"/Satya Yugam, etc, etc... Yet history will not perpetually repeat itself, it has done so for a long time, but it also continually evolves from one Kalpa to another, so that if more beings awaken progressively in the present, then this will exponentially/logarithmically grow... On a cosmic scale it may only seem like a barely perceptible fluctuation, but it is setting a precedent for future evolutionary progress, and like the concept of the Butterfly Effect or quantum non-locality it can have a major influence on the entire Omniverse/Cosmos. As well, dream consciousness is an instant wormhole to an infinity of different planets, realms, galaxies and densities... Astrophysical and quantum theorizations are not theories, they are metaphysically factual to one who is aware and has awakened and attuned to their avatar selves. Saying that myths are fictional and not historically based is like saying that reality is as we physically perceive it and quantum physics and subatomic particles do not exist because we cannot see them...

Neocolonial Academics

The reason academic institutions in this country have such an excessive focus on overtheorization and overspecialization in very specific areas of knowledge, cramming students' minds with complicated ways of saying simple things and so much homework and assignments and readings that they can barely manage to keep up, is quite simple. It's the same reason they grossly underpay working class people and force them to slave away all week for minimal wages. They don't want any of us to have any free time to think for ourselves, and if we do, they don't want us to have a broader understanding (an overstanding) of various disciplines and realities because polymaths are very dangerous. Most importantly, they want those of us who seem to escape the exploitation cycle of the working class and think we're making a difference with "higher" education to become so highly intellectualized and theoretical that even if we write and talk about non-conformity and revolution the majority of the population will not be able to properly understand (i.e. inner/overstand) or care about what we say, or even have access to what we publish because of how incredibly and unnecessarily complicated and publically inaccessible our writings and thoughts are. That way they create an intellectually proficient yet spiritually crippled and revolutionarily inefficient elite who think they are actually changing things by theorizing about solutions -and perhaps are on a small scale- yet they will be mostly looked down upon -despised even- by many because of how superior they make themselves seem with their language.

The End of the Pharmaceutical Age

<https://kikwaakew.bandcamp.com/track/the-end-of-the-pharmaceutical-age-prod-by-sixfire>

On the medicine aspect what they're doing is colonially appropriating, synthesizing and commodifying natural plant and mineral extracts that have been known to traditional medicine practitioners and shamans/nahuals for countless millenia. What's more, their so-called remedies are actually much less effective in most cases and more harmful than any natural ones... I am speaking from first hand experience of this, because I have been diagnosed as bipolar and schizophrenic as well as a host of other things. Western doctors and psychiatrists certified me as permanently mentally disabled several years ago while I was forcefully subjected to a plethora of chemical antipsychotics that literally destroyed me in every sense of the word when they claimed they were healing me... fast forward to a few years later after meeting an alternative psychiatrist that taught me orthomolecular vitamin therapy and natural remedies (Dr. Abram Hoffer), and I became and did all I am today and previously mentioned against all odds and psychiatric systemic perspectives at the time. All this to say, I am living proof that Western psychiatric medicines destroy people and natural remedies and healthy living can literally perform massive miracles far beyond Eurocentric logic and rationality's scope...

Galactic Microcosms

Our bodies are microcosmic mirrors of a symbiotic galactic system represented by a self-replenishing taurus forcefield... at the center of our beings is our soul, which is an omnidirectional aetheric gaseous sphere spinning faster than light in a perpetual motion that primarily draws its vital energy from the planetary consciousness we tread upon... this enters our light body from the feet chakras as a beam which feeds into the taurus's black hole and is compressed at the singularity point at the approximate height of our solar plexus chakra (manipura) in the hidden sunyatadhara (black hole zero point) chakra, to then be spewed out in a quasar fountain that peaks at the projection of our crown chakra (pranayamana & urdhvasthana, fountain & apex chakras) and renews the depleted energies which feed back into the black hole that powers our taurus forcefield... the excess creationary energy which is not used for our aura is spurted out into the outermost reaches of the Cosmos in the form of a Makara/Dragon (astrophysically speaking) that helps to expand the Omniverse with our creativity's antigravity & dark energy & matter... this is a delicate balance to keep, for if you take too much energy from the earth and selfishly keep it to build a very strong forcefield, your Creative Dragon will shrink into nothingness... oppositely, if you are too selfless, your Dragon will stretch to such epic proportions that you will have no energy left to maintain your aura and you will become spiritually vulnerable to psychic attacks and soul manipulation... The Middle Path is Key, as is Belief in All & Oneness.

Death & Reincarnation (A Guide to the Unknown)

Essentially Death is like entering a Black Hole... according to many mythologies/Faiths, your soul travels to the center of whatever galaxy you live in and you cross through the various Hells/Heavens (16 hot/cold Hells, 7 Heavens in Earth mythologies, Eastern & Western) to go through various tests, facing the monsters/demons of your past, fears, unsolved issues, desires, sins, etc, which in some cases can take a long time for souls that become trapped in the loop of any of these realities they cannot overcome... for those souls they often become wandering ghosts in the different realms they stay trapped in until they learn the lesson they need to learn and/or someone/something helps them to transcend it... once their journey is complete and they are ready for rebirth they get to the final stage and appear before the beings they believed in (Yeshua, Buddha, the Goddess, God, angels, demons, whoever...) and their life and actions are analyzed and judged based on their own higher self's belief system, as long as it is balanced and consistent... once the judgement is completed they are given different options for their future life based on their past one, they choose many of the events they will go through, their parents, their struggles, their watchers, their friends and enemies... and once this is done their soul goes on their final journey to reincarnation, they reach the singularity point of the black hole at zero point density/absolute zero temperature, their individual structure as a soul ceases existence and is restructured at the threshold of the quasar on the opposite side into new matter on a galactic scale, which also corresponds in a parallel density to the sperm of their parent travelling to the planet/ovary of their conception, and they begin anew in all the basic stages of consciousness, from bacterial to various insects and fishes, to amphibious to land animals to reach their final form and be reborn, as we see in the stages of a foetus' evolution in the womb... However, if you somehow transcend Earthly reincarnation and your judgement surpasses human standards your soul may go beyond the 7th Heaven to the Gates of Infinity through different wormholes which will lead you to various alien galaxies across the Omniverse to incarnate into an "immortal" form, whether purely aetheric or partly physical as well...

Past, Present & Future as Non-linear Timelessness

If you consider the quantum reality of infinite densities/dimensions/parallel universes where every variation of who you are/interact with & what you do/think co-exist, in this particular reality when you have a certain relationship/friendship/interactional outcome which you perhaps would have liked to be different, in a different reality created from your mind when you pondered this it actually brought it into existence. However each choice we make, each action we take and each word we speak creates a quantum shift where we jump back and forth in between these infinite possibilities...

in what we perceive to be the "future" we are simply physically revisiting and actualizing these psychic realities we created in the past yet never fully materialized for a host of reasons... in this sense, in the "future" we will be rewriting failed physical manifestations of our "past" into what has become our current "present". This is why as 4th level of consciousness/4th density beings, humans are prisoners of the illusion of Time, which is the 4th dimension. The higher the density shift of vibrational consciousness you foster, the more Time distorts and expands, as your lifespan does from a human perspective, although from a higher perspective this seemingly extended lifespan is also perceived similarly to us as humans. Likewise, on lower vibrational levels time can equally distort and seem like it goes by much slower as you progress downwards, from animals, to trees to rocks/planets/astral bodies, the latter which are also eternal/immortal beings in an opposite temporal sense.

Many teachings tell us that the past is not important, and the future, likewise, should be of no concern to us; that we should live in the here and now, for that is all that truly matters. I've always partly disagreed with this. If we ignore our past, then we are ignoring our roots, and that ignorance will cause the rest of our being to eventually wither from lack of nourishment. Similarly, if we ignore the future, and concentrate all our energies on surviving & living in the here & now, we are withholding vital energies from the burgeons which are soon to blossom into flowers in the next season, and they will surely also wither & die. Thus our being's future will be bleak and barren of the fragrant flowers that bloom into fruitful achievements, which are the seeds of our progeny. I know many people who only live in the here and now, paying no heed neither to past nor future, and they are neither enlightened nor happy. Know your roots, study your history, learn from your past, and plan your future wisely. For the present truly does not exist, nor past or future. All of it is an illusion. By the time I finish writing this, all of it will be in the past, and as I am writing these lines, I am building into the future. The present doesn't even exist in a nanofraction of a second.

Much Love to Jeff Grant aka the Third Eye Scientist & co-founder of Mutant Akademy for explaining the concept of quantum shift to me this past summer. Truly one of the most brilliant minds I have been blessed to befriend...

The Great New Age Deception of the "Love & Light" Movement

The Great White Brotherhood/the Brotherhood of Light, Ashtar Command, the Galactic Alliance & many New Age authors, channelers, mediums, oracles, healers, yogis & others associated with these movements like Doreen Virtue and other multi-millionaire gurus with great commercial success have effectively simply rebranded White Judaeo-Christian religion's colonial/imperial, its idealization of Enlightenment & Demonization of Darkness/Endarkenment as a profitable way to capitalize off of the pillaged Knowledge, Wisdom and jewels of Afro-Asiatic Philosophies & True Occidental Mystics which they corrupted and claimed as their own for commercial purposes, attacking and discrediting as impostors anyone who would attempt to expose this in the same way most Christians brand anyone who questions their beliefs of "Love and Light" as deceptions demonic or blasphemous...

Do not support this industry. Don't buy their "Enlightenment" for 19.99$ plus shipping & handling with a free White angel pendant that comes as a bonus. It's all a trap. I don't care what you say or argue about this, I'm not saying these people are consciously deceitful, they aren't for the most part. That's what fame, fortune and followers do to almost anyone. They're just brainwashed into thinking there's nothing wrong with what they're doing and they're actually ascended masters with a bunch of make up, a nice perm and some high class clothes for their book cover's photo shoot in their comfortable mansion from the proceeds of their "wisdom".

Please don't buy what they're selling. Not even metaphorically. Get it from the Source. It's inside you, and it doesn't cost anything. You just need to believe in yourself, listen, and question everything.

Never stop questioning every thing.

Because there is no thing, literally, there is nothing.

Everything is alive and sentience, saying things exist is a commodification and objectification which leads to the material possession (which literally possesses you) of immaterial sentient reality, just like the sex, meat and dairy industry.

Here is a good metaphor about why Love and Light cannot be the ultimate solution to any problem:

think of a being you consider to be evil who is dwelling in "Darkness"... do you truly think you can heal and change them by showering them with Love and Light? If you have a cactus that hasn't been watered in ages and is withering away slowly, if you suddenly start to shower it with tons of water and scorching sunlight what do you think will happen? The water will drown and rot it, and the sunlight will then desiccate it till it is lifeless and dry. The same applies to Evil when Love is concerned. Love is the Water, Light is the Sun. You must give it enough Love/Water to hydrate its roots again and restore its vitality, and enough sunlight to foster its sustainment and growth, but there is a balance that needs to be found. The balance is all the elements needed, not simply Love and Light. Most of the elements plants feed from come from the Darkness in the soil, all the minerals and vitamins and nourishment to sustain the roots, without which the plant cannot live. Showering it with "Love and Light" in this case and trying to abolish the Darkness by bleaching or burning it is a very ignorant thing to do.

Think of a starving child dying from hunger and thirst. If you suddenly make them eat a giant feast of wonderful food, and make them drink lots of water or juice, their wrinkled and shrunken stomach will burst, and they will be violently sick and throw it all up, perhaps even die. You must give them very small amounts at first, until their stomach expands, just like you must give very small amounts of Love and Light to heal Evil at first, and a lot of Darkness for them to rest, nourish themselves and replenish their energies and roots, until they can adapt and synthesize it for their own evolution.

Binary Mind Tricks: Good vs Bad "Things"

Most people go through daily existence thinking certain animals, plants, insects, stones and objects are good luck or beneficial, while others are perceived to be bad luck or negative, and the vast majority of other beings or things they come across every second of their existence are ignored as insignificant and unworthy of attention. Co-incidentally, most of their lives are filled with a proportionate amount of good and bad luck related to these, and vast amounts of boredom and insignificance in between. Yet once you start to realize that every level of sentience, and practically every potential "object" or "thing" you come across in your life, is a living, complex compound of trillions of cells, micro-organisms and elements that reverberate and reflect your own intentions and perceptions of them, from beings to so-called "inanimate objects", all of it becomes a vital part of your existence's odyssey that offers you unlimited evolutionary potential. Children know this, which is why to most of them every "thing" is wondrous and magical like sacred relics in Fairy Tales or myths, from a stick on the ground to the insect upon it, to a random rock in a driveway. Adults are conditioned to think that all this is an illusion, yet the illusion is exactly what they paradoxically think reality is. The next time you walk past a tree or some flowers, or an insect lands upon your skin, see the ageless consciousness of Gaia and all its Wisdom & Knowledge at your fingertips within it, see the interdimensional sentient micro-organic spaceship that a bee or a wasp actually is, conversate with it, even if it's just your own mind's dialogue at first, and appreciate the amazing and breathtaking experience that everyday life is in so many neglected occasions.

Apocalypse/Revelations Revisited

<https://onsetsw.bandcamp.com/album/onse-kalki-end-of-days>

Etymology... Etymos logos... the origin/true meaning of words/reason...

What is the ultimate nemesis of Evil, Old "White" men who deceive us into thinking they have all the power when in fact they are the weakest beings on this planet? Their opposite: the Rainbow Children/Warriors, who truly are the most powerful. This is a Hopi prophecy.

What comes before Original beings?

Aboriginal ones.

What is the opposite of invasive/parasitic species?

Indigenous/symbiotic ones.

What is the original meaning of myth? A truthful story. What does it mean now?

Falsehood.

What was order born from? Chaos. Where did Light come from? Darkness. Who gave birth to God? The Goddess. What came before religion?

Animism/shamanism/mysticism. What came before patriarchy? Paganism/Goddess worship/matriarchy. What comes before science?

Prescience. What is true science born from?

Conscience. What is conscience born from? Subconscience. What is subconsciousness born from? Akasha's records and its Aetheric templates, ie, the Cosmos. What is the symbiosis of conscience and subconsciousness? Supraconscience. Humans have an atma, a soul. Sants/Saints are mahatmas, great souls. True mystics/seers are paramatmas, supreme souls, just like asamprajnata is beyond the wisdom of consciousness, non-cognitive supraconsciousness. What is true science? Jnana, Knowledge, the first of the 12 Jewels of the Gods & Earths from which all others originate, just like Hydrogen is the first of the complete 216 Elements of the Anunnaki/Elohim periodic table, which incidentally corresponds to the number of currently mapped out dimensions in quantum physics. What is the etymology/origin of Knowledge? To recognize, to acknowledge.

What is Western science based upon in these days and times, and what is currently lacking to be acknowledged in it? Its Afro-Asiatic & Indigenous roots, just like White Supremacists lack to acknowledge the origin of humans as Afro-Asiatic and Indigenous, and the origin of their Knowledge as melanin born from the Sun as Hydro-gen, "Fire born from Water", but also Helios, "Wind/Air" without which it could not burn, the Life on Earth which it fosters without which it would not be a Creator/Creatrix as Amun-Ra/Amen-Re, and the Aether which sustains it as an Astral Body... true Knowledge is born from Wisdom, the Goddess Sophia/Saraswati/Tiamat, like the Mesopotamian/Sumerian Wisdom divinity Ea, "He Whose House is Water", the Middle-Eastern Anunnaki-Elohim hybrid Geneticist who genetically spliced and hybridized humankind with his half-sister Nihursaga and all the Female Anunnakis who gave birth to the first humans in the Garden of Eden in the Fertile Crescent, spanning North Africa & the Middle-East, born from the rich alien soil from mineral remnants of a giant meteoric crash hundreds of millions of years ago that shifted the atmosphere & climatic conditions leading to dinosaurs' extinction, & their reincarnation & evolution into Saurians, Dracos & Anunnakis, who after these hundreds of millions of years of evolution in another planetary system/density came back in spaceships to colonize and reconquer the Earth they were wiped off of and enslave the species that survived where they did not... which quite "co-incidentally" parallels the rise and fall of White Supremacy and the colonial religions "they" now manipulate and rule over us with...

Apocalypse means the lifting of the Veil, Revelations, or literally, apo + calypso/kaluptein, to un-cover... Apo also means a lack of Light, or literally Darkness, as in apocryphas, darkly enlightening/endarkening encryptions... The fair skinned Greek nymph Calypso concealed Homer on his Odyssey and kept him prisoner on her island, just like this false Light & Love of mainstream Judaeo-Christian theologies and dogmas which is really Ignorance and Hate conceals our true potential and destinies from us... apo calypso is the Black Calypso, the African rebirth of the Nymph Goddess that Lifts the Veil and reveals All... 8th Density Shift...

The End of the World is always Now. The End of Times is always Now. The passing of Time is an illusory perceptive distortion within human minds as 4th density beings since it is the 4th dimension and we are trapped within it until we transcend human limitations. Measuring it as a non-fluctuating quantifiable concept is ridiculous even to rational scientists who know and have studied the distorting effects of emotional states, psychedelics and REM dream states upon our mind's perception of Time passing. Stop waiting for worse things or better changes or some sign to prove something that's already all around you and everywhere on the planet and beyond... Prophecies are all self-fulfilling... That is our 7th sense, and the power of words and thoughts manifested through belief, associated with our 7th spinal chakra, sahasrara, the crown, which projects and manifests the energy of your thoughts and beliefs into the Cosmos... Everyday the greatest genocide, slavery, exploitation and oppression in any human history is unfolding on our plates, at our workplaces, in our clothes, in nearly all we buy, enjoy and sustain ourselves and our illusory yet privileged comforts and physical shells with while we wittingly and unwittingly destroy countless others in the process, including this phone I am writing this on created from toxic minerals mined by often underage workers in horrible conditions paid a microfraction of the profit this industry generates... Politics, religion, education, business, leisure, sports, media, all of it is a deceptive facade and distraction from actual reality to delay this fateful Revelation to the moment the planet barely is alive anymore and it's already too late for us... Most of us know this... But somehow so many are waiting for Apocalypse and Revelations to unfold from static scrolls corrupted and foretold by the same ancestors of oppressive heteropatriarchal men controlling these systems of entrapment and conscious restriction we exist in... the ultimate Revelation is that each day of our lives we either choose to realize this and take action to become the change we so desperately hope for, or we give up our own power to mysteriously deceitful forces, become sarcastically bleak about the hopelessness of everything and think "fuck it... what's the point, it's all going to Hell... who am I to make any difference?", or even worse, some choose to deny it all and stay blissfully unaware while they pray for other beings and people to change things and blame the systems, leaders and corporations they knowingly and unknowingly support thinking there are no better choices anyways... But there always are. And the choice is always ours.

If Matter is an Illusion Why Can I Touch & Feel It?

The reason you see the wall/person/"object" in front of you and cannot walk through it is the same reason you see a fan as a circular disc when it spins despite the physical gaps in reality... the microcosmic and microfractional subatomic particles which compose the matter you speak of are vibrating and whirling at such lightening speed in empty space that they create a visual illusion of matter as well as a forcefield from the energy of their hyperspeed movement, which is why the wall appears as such to your eyes and it seems to block you from moving through it. Change your own vibrational frequency and visual perception with heighened psychic and spiritual activity, and the wall no longer appears as such, like in the case of a mind on psychedelics, however you still cannot walk through it on acid because only the mental visual component is altered, not the physical.

Why "They" Don't Want You to Practice Tantra

The colonial overlords of the realms we exist in realize that when compatible Omega souls connect on every aspect (Physical/Mental/Spiritual/Psychic/Astral/Causal/Subtle) even if they don't have physical offspring the product of those energies colliding creates the most powerful mythological beings in the Cosmos far beyond their scope and control... so they implant ideas of sexuality and eroticism being shameful or harmful for spiritual progress in every level of spiritual/religious hierarchy from the most brainwashed Western ones to the most enlightened eastern philosophies, where things like tantra and erotic pranic energies are considered occult and dangerous, and the path of abstinence or denial of desire is expressed as being the only true way to full transcendental awareness when in reality the merging of two superconscious beings on that level is literally an instant form of transcendance in comparison to a lifetime of denial and asceticism which often fails to ever achieve the full awareness desired... and the funny thing is its right in front of our eyes, because if you look at the number of mandalas in Buddhist temples preaching abstinence that have tantric boddhisattvas literally having sex in yogic positions on them, or Hindu divinities being tantric and demisexual/polyamorous, it completely denies and contradicts the ideologies they're trying to push...

"Only God Can Judge You" (And Everyone Else)

"You shouldn't judge anyone's actions or beliefs, just be forgiving, Loving and compassionate to all beings and let them do whatever they want because God gave us Free Will, let God judge them when the Time comes"

That's what the male scribe paid to mistranslate the holy book wrote down ordered by a male priest who was ordered by a male archbishop who was ordered by a male cardinal who was ordered by a male Pope who kissed the hands of the most powerful and corrupted male leaders of the World Banking System in sign of submission and allegiance to a male God whose religions are the basis for all colonialism & slavery in existence...

And when you die and your God tells you he's gonna judge all those people for you, and you say yes of course God judge them all I didn't judge anyone he'll shape-shift into a horrible looking lizard, smile gruesomely and throw you back into the pit of eternal samsara for reincarnation because you forgot the most basic principles of karma you claimed to be practicing... You can't claim not to judge someone and then let someone else judge that person for you instead, whoever that someone else is. That's pure nonsense.

Welcome to Religion 101. It's a new class we'll be teaching at Mutant Akademy soon...

Keylontonics Revisited: Conscious Restrictions & the New World Order's Conspiracies

This is an innerstanding of how the NWO's elites function, the false Illuminati White Supremacist leaders of the 13 families that own and operate the 4 world banks that virtually control everything in this system, whose supreme headquarters are in Switzerland, a "neutral" country of bankers largely funded by Nazi & Zionist money they use to sponsor both sides of the conflicts they enrich themselves from globally...

(virtually being the key word as they literally keep us in a holographic matrix of virtual reality which is in fact a carefully constructed and manipulated illusion: this is the Flat Earth concept, created by the Grey ruling council, which oversees science and technology, as well as the creation and manipulation/enslavement of AI to restrict and corrupt human consciousness)

These elites, as many know, are merely pawns themselves who are a part of the same system they falsely believe they control, and which is operated by a similar yet much higher and much more deceitful ruling elite of mutli-dimensional beings that created anti-Indigenous colonial religious systems in order to increase their dwindling power, which is based on the conscious restriction/brainwashing, indoctrination and enslavement of those that worship them.

These religions were specifically created and maintained in a way which allows the beings worshipped to avoid the karmic repercussions of this enslavement of lower consciousness/densities: this is why Judaeo-Christians are literally the most contradictory and nonsensical "sacred" scriptures on this planet, speaking of ultimate freedom while creating perpetual enslavement, of Unconditional Love while encouraging conditional Hatred, of infinite Compassion while fostering endless mercilessness and torment, etc.

This is the great mind trick of Western Theologies: since those overlords are aware of Eastern Philosophical principles of karma, they know they cannot teach true Love while enslaving their followers for deceitful purpose, because their karma for exploiting pure and innocent beings of lesser developed consciousness would be extremely heavy. And so, they corrupt and deceive their worshippers by tricking them into thinking that they should Unconditionally Love their neighbors, and forgive all sins and evil perpetrated against them, and yet let "God" judge everyone in the End.

So worshippers for the most part aren't truly forgiving or loving them, they are simply letting their God decide who is worthy of this Love and forgiveness in the End, which is all based on their devotion & worship to this same God. But at the End of Days/Apocalypse/Revelations, when this "God" tells them their enemies and the unbelievers will be burned in a lake of eternal Fire in Hell for all of eternity for disbelieving in Him or hurting His followers, how many of those worshippers would choose to defy their God and say, but God, didn't you teach us infinite Love and Compassion and Forgiveness for our enemies? I don't want them to burn in Hell, let us forgive them...

Far too few of course, if any, because who would stand up to "God" and disagree with His judgement when the punishment for this is Eternal Hell as well? That is the great mind trick. In doing this, "God" essentially forces all His followers to betray all their deepest principles, and those who do so will be thrown back into the cycle of karma and reincarnation according to how they lived their lives.

The few who fare slightly better may be lucky enough to become angels or prophets or saints who become a part of this archonic empire which restricts the entirety of humanity's consciousness and far beyond it, but once they are on this level they are trapped within this system of oppression like in a pyramid scheme, which is exactly what this is (think of the NWO pyramid with the All-Seeing Eye on the American dollar bills, which represents the class system ruled by the Illuminati), and if they attempt to escape after this "revelation" of the true nature of their God they will then become fallen angels/demons/devils which will still function in the same system, but in an opposite sense, torturing the "unworthy" and the "wicked" souls of humans who were hopelessly corrupted by God's standards, instead of being light angels, saints and faithful believers in an artificial Heaven singing praises and working for a being they mostly know to be a genocidal monster, yet are so afraid of because of the immense power He has drained from billions upon billions of souls since far before the birth of humanity that they see no other option but to submit. That is, again, the great mind trick.

Eastern Philosophical practitioners and mystics like Buddha believe this power is an illusion and has no control over them, but that is also part of the mind trick, which is what Keylontonic science explains. By denying the reality of this "God" and saying that He does not exist other than inside us, this is a form of hierarchy and elitism which this "God" karmically feeds off of as well.

Quantum reality is that this overlord and His archons both exist internally and externally. Reality which is illusory is still a form of reality. The ultimate reality that lies behind this cannot be ultimate without acknowledging that the illusion is also real, otherwise it also falls within the same trap as the illusion. In the same way, this archonic overlord is at once extremely powerful and extremely weak. But the weaker we believe Him to be, the stronger he will be in reality. The key is to understand this contradiction, just like the duality of particles and waves. It is the ultimate cosmic conundrum.

How the New World Order fits into this is that those elites who rule it are aware of much of this through the secretive use of forbidden and occult knowledge from ancient secret societies and orders dating back to high priests and scribes which stole/appropriated it from original Afro-Asiatic and Indigenous cultures and perverted its principles for their own greed and power. Societies like Masons represent the opposite of mainstream Christianity's ideals... if Christianity is Light, they harness the power of the Occult...

but the Illuminati have infiltrated the highest orders of Masons many centuries ago and control them through presidential candidates in the US (all of which are high level Masons/Skull & Bones with a few exceptions that were very short lived), and so they pervert, exploit and commercialize this occult knowledge under the guise of liberalism and absolute freedom through the oversexualization of women and children in society, mainstream media & Hollywood, toxic drugs which have been commercially exploited and corrupted, detached from their original shamanic/therapeutic intent such as alcohol (al-khul, literally demon or spirit, essence of things), tobacco, and synthetic prescription drugs, while discrediting and even outlawing all natural plant medicines and remedies from which these commercial drugs are derived, particularly entheogenic/psychoactive ones, since they expand the human awareness and consciousness which this system seeks to restrict. And of course most all religions and spiritual practices also ban or demonize the use of entheogens...

Alcohol is medically known to be a depressant, which is why many people literally suffer from depression from drinking too much, because they are going into lower vibrational states/bardos/densities, ie. Hells. Cannabis, on the other hand, gets you high, it raises your vibrational frequency and increases your mental activity and creativity and is a panacea, a universal remedy for thousands of serious illnesses and afflictions, hence why it was restricted and isn't promoted by the mental health system, even though CBD is the most effective antipsychotic medicine known to humankind.

However, as they transition into legalization, they are also increasingly disbalancing the THC to CBD ratio, as well as genetically modifying and chemically altering the essence of this plant, just like with tobacco and alcohol, so they can completely invert its naturopathic purpose. They plan to do the same for all other psychoactives and herbal remedies eventually. This is all a part of the New World Order.

In creating this rift between Masons, Satanists & Occult worshippers (which there is nothing wrong with intrinsically, mind you) and Judaeo-Christian fundamentalists in the West, who are extremely self-righteous and believe in sobriety and abstinence from pleasure such as in mainstream Islam, they are in essence manufacturing the Apocalypse of scriptures and progressively allowing more and more commercialized freedom, sex and drugs to be tolerated, but only because they have poisoned the spirit of all of these things and corrupted their essence, on the other hand they are also religiously encouraging the "righteous" to demonize and discriminate against these heathens (that should not be a bad word, by the way), which will eventually lead to them creating an unholy war between both which would be the "final" showdown of humanity as Angels vs Demons, righteous humans vs mutants, which is simply a replication of the ancient nuclear wars of fallen deities in pre-diluvian times like those of Sumerian myths... These are 2 of the 3 triangle's sides, the third being Eastern Philosophies, which take a neutral stance on all of this and are themselves divided in their allegiances depending on traditions, such as tantric/non-tantric, shamanic/non-shamanic, polytheistic/monotheistic, etc. This is the Eye on top, which sees the binary division, yet cannot properly grasp its own limitations and biases.

Similarly, in this pyramid/triangle of control, there are on the one hand, the Grey ruling council, who are very mentally powerful yet spiritually and physically very weak for the most part genetically speaking, and so they represent and control the humans who have forsaken spirit and health for mind and science, rationality and empirical statistics which they believe to be knowledge. On the other hand you have the Saurians, the descendents of the dinosaurs who were wiped out from this planet, very physically but less mentally powerful beings who are the most dominant aliens in this galaxy, and hold nearly all the power of physical matter within them. On the top of this pyramid, you have the Anunnaki ruling council, who are shape-shifters with both extremely powerful mental and physical abilities, yet are also very weak in spirit due to their moral corruption. However in each of these races there are also significant resistance movements and factions which are growing each day with the progression of the Great Shift. After this unholy war & false Apocalypse, the elites on Earth would leave the half-destroyed planet and the survivors and hop on rocketships to go colonize Mars, create an Elysium of sorts and start this whole thing again there.

This is their plan, which is outlined on the Georgia Guidestones, to create a false 4/5th density "paradise" on Earth for 500 000 000 elitist, mostly White & subordinate middle & upper class humans to live a life of mindless luxury, similarly to Aldous Huxley's Brave New World.

But they have already failed. This can no longer manifest. Because the Great Shift and the prophecies that guide it are far beyond any heteropatriarchal colonial scripture in existence. We are the Resistance. We are the Revolution. And it starts Now. Build your future, network and organize everyday, create art, write, dance, dream, fall in Love, follow your true passions, because Art is Life, Creativity and Imagination are the Birth of Everything. Whatever Evil they create, Dream, imagine and manifest Love is infinitely more powerful. However demonizing Darkness and Evil serves no purpose. A snake eating a mouse is part of Nature, just like a predator human killing another human they perceive as weaker is a part of this corrupted society. Many Evils can serve a purpose, yet not all of them do truly. As humans with an evolved consciousness, we must accept and acknowledge both sides need improvement, and too much Love can be just as toxic as too much Evil. Balance, and the Middle Path is Key. The Cosmos will not be rebalanced only from infinite Love and Light, it never has been and never will.

Because Ultimate Love and Light when those concepts become antithetical to everything else can also easily become a form of Ultimate Evil. That is exactly what happened with all that I have previously described. Do not fall into this trap. Be as Endarkened as you are Enlightened. And do not equate Darkness, lack of Light, or Black Magic with Evil. That is, once again, another trap of this White Supremacist system. You cannot simply speak of Loving and Enlightening everything if you yourself have fear of Darkness and Evil. And you cannot either completely and unconditionally forgive and Love, or even justify all forms of Evil as necessary cosmic oppositions, because in doing this you become the Evil you wish to change, and oppress and harm many of the beings that were abused by it by forcing your perspective upon them.

Again, as Buddha said it, the Middle Path is Key. Do not have too much Love for something you ultimately hate or fear. That is like drowning a dried up sick plant with too much water, or offering a gigantic feast to a person starving from hunger with a shrunken stomach thinking you are healing them. Balance what you do according to each situation. And whatever you do, don't support consumerism, commercialism and abuse. The karma you create for yourself by supporting the enslavement, murder and abuse of any form of consciousness for your own food and enjoyment allows those beings to continue to oppress you in the same ways in your present and future lives, that is how they keep you trapped in samsara. Break the cycle.

Finding the Root of Illusion

One cannot be a true mystic without being animistic, just as you cannot be a prophet without being a non-profit. Likewise, you cannot be a worthy scientist if you have no mastery of prescience.

Most all non-indigenous organized religions, faiths, philosophies and spiritual belief systems are structured around a certain form of unipolar or bipolar perspective which assumes a form of supremacy or overarching understanding of all other belief systems as somehow limited while attempting to encompass and rationalize their perceived limitations within their own... this is another great mind trick of religion and organized spirituality which is akin in some senses to brainwashed and indoctrinated Judaeo-Christian practitioners being told that other religions' followers have been/are/will be burning in Hell when in reality each of them are dwelling in different illusions of heavens as dystopian and dysfunctional as their lack of compassion for others reveal them to be to their deceptive divinities, who prey upon this indoctrinated ignorance in order to gain more strength and power and grow the ranks of their worshippers while also justifying their restrictions and karmic penalties to them, as previously explained.

These religious and structured spiritual belief systems exploit and pervert each of these overlapping realities within a binary fallacy that discredits and demonizes or trivializes quantum realities as symbiotically co-existing, simply because they are themselves imperially parasitic. This is why religion is most always a corruption of true spirituality.

This also ties in to the previously discussed notion of Time as the 4th dimension as Derrida suggests, and of how it can be perceived/distorted infinitely as we grow in conscious awareness beyond the 4th density/dimension which it traps us in as human beings/4th levels of consciousness. On a 5th dimensional subatomic level in quantum science particles already behave completely differently than humans do from a temporal perspective, and 2 particles at opposite ends of the galaxy can instantly influence and affect each other. And beyond this density/dimension this Time distortion increases exponentially.

As such, these multi-dimensional alien beings many worship as gods/divinities have created these religious systems of conscious restrictions to keep us trapped within the karmic cycle of samsara and the illusion of Time & Past/Present/Future as separate to keep us oblivious to their overarching ambitions of vampiric energy draining and conscious slavery.

Wait for the Second Coming, one day, be patient, they say, it will come... except that when prophets incarnate they're tortured, demonized, outlawed and slaughtered, then glorified in a perverted sense hundreds of years later by beings who manipulated and corrupted all their teachings... and when the Judgement Day or Revelations finally come brainwashed patriarchal prophets that are essentially puppets of these overlords typically cause all humans to have a gigantic apocalyptic war because their masters drained all the energy from Earth in corporate / industrial / economic / oligarchic / martial / religious / political / social / slave labor ventures triggering massive catastrophes and almost all humans are ultimately wiped out... then in their plan they move on to restart somewhere else and seed and drain other planets till those humans are ripe for soul harvesting again...

Buddha once said:
"Question everything, including what I said"
(But who am I to question Buddha really?)

Prana is the vital life force which is pure aetheric kinetic energy. Since the overlords which orchestrate this colonially hegemonic system which controls, manipulates and restricts our evolution and consciousness feed off of polarly opposite energies they must perversely and invertedly transmute our energies in a "pure and innocent" sense in order for them to keep exploiting us and avoid the karma of all of this... so essentially they are powered from pure Evil which is born from Naive/Innocent corrupted Love.

A close friend of mine wrote to me once:

"Thanks for mentioning the higher and lower frequencies being forms of spiritual elitism. There's something peculiar though about Gautama Buddha, after his enlightenment, not wanting to leave the tree, but his compassion was so big he left his bliss in order to teach people ways to end suffering. The four noble truths. The moral conducts (sila), right concentration (sama samadhi) and wisdom (prajna).

Sila has 5 rules:

- 1. Do not kill/harm any living being*
- 2. Do not steal*
- 3. Do not lie*
- 4. No sexual misconduct*
- 5 No intoxicants (with a particular emphasis on alcohol).*

I resonate with these rules a lot, as it leads to a more moral lifestyle.

I dont like how alcohol makes me feel. From my own personal experience, it disconnects me from myself and I hate the side effects. But if someone can use it medicinally ceremonially to connect with the intention they set out for, then they are doing what is right for them.

Thanks for playing devil's advocate:)"

To which I replied:

I agree entirely in essence. However without Buddha here to explain this, those rules can easily become misunderstood; if you look at the reality of things, none of these are practiceable realistically, all of it is illusion literally speaking. Even Buddha knew this. Not killing is impossible. Everything we do every second causes death to infinite levels of consciousness in order to sustain life. So that's out. Not lying and stealing is also impossible in a society and system where truth is firstly illusory and based on lies and theft/greed, and where a greater awareness of what truth should be or actually is is virtually non-existent. So in that sense, that's out as well. Sexual misconduct is quite similar, considering who defines the parameters of what these transgressions are and the purpose of them. As far as intoxicants, literally every form of plant life we sustain ourselves from is mind-altering, because in Ayurveda each taste/food is associated with specific emotions, therefore eating a spicy curry is an intoxicant, having herbal tea is an intoxicant, literally anything is. This is why most buddhist monks eat extremely simple sattvic foods with no spices. But even sattvic foods are intoxicating, simply in a sober sense. Extreme lucidity is a form of altered consciousness which is very much like a drug. Buddha simply preached abstinence, discipline, humility and sobriety to reach higher states much like Western religions do, but in a much more expansive sense. Ultimately however Buddhism in many forms as we currently know them is still a form of spiritual hierarchization which often discounts and demonizes shamanistic/animistic awareness of the symbiosis of all levels of consciousness.

Extra Sensory Perceptions & Eurocentrism

Extra sensory perceptions in Eurocentric society & its global hegemony have not only been consciously restricted and even theoretically or pseudo-scientifically invalidated under the cover of normalcy and humanity's supposed 5 senses, they have been systematically and systemically hidden from us in plain sight by devious overlords and puppeteers using these very same ESPs to manipulate us into believing that they do not exist when in reality we use and are bombarded by them on a daily basis.

A quick three-pronged example of this is telekinesis, pathokinesis and psychokinesis: telekinesis literally means "far off (remotely triggered) movement", so in fact we are using telekinesis everytime we speak to one another, nod in agreement or react to a non-physical expression or contact, which also involves psycho and pathokinesis as well. If someone feels sad and you cheer them up with encouraging words, this is a form of pathokinesis, which is a shifting/manipulation of emotional states. This can be used either for benevolent or deceitful purposes, hence why the government do not want humans to be aware of the manipulation they are operating through these ESPs. Psychokinesis is both thought and spirit (mind and soul) control/shifting/manipulation, which is essentially what the media, politicians and religious leaders have been doing since the dawn of colonial civilizations and the creation of humanity. If you want historical references of this, look up project MK Ultra in the USA circa 1950 and LSD mind control experiments with the CIA as a truth serum.

Telepathy is not meant to be purely thought-based communication. That is a mind trick which can potentially distort the essence of what is being communicated because of individual semantic and linguistic variations, especially in the case of colonial languages which consciously or unconsciously impose certain limited yet dominant emotional messages through specific words.

Tele-pathos in its Greek origin literally means "remote emotional communication", which is completely non-linguistic and thus omniversally accessible regardless of culture, belief or language boundaries. Once these emotions are psychically conveyed, such as when you look at a being and connect with them by sharing your emotions/feelings which their aura/mind/appearance fosters within you, this then triggers pathokinesis, which is a shifting of their emotional state in reaction to your own emotions conveyed to them.

Nikola Tesla's principle of harnessing infinite energy from a microcosmic particle's fission is not just applicable to electricity, but literally to all sources of energy. When you think of the beings in this Cosmos who have the most power and influence over us, in almost all cases it is because they brainwashed/influenced/convinced their followers to worship them in order to gain their tremendous energy. So you might think, I have no power in this world, very few people know me, nobody worships me or gives me a lot of energy, how can I have the power I need to be who I am? Think of Tesla's principle. All you need is one pure, kind hearted friend/soulmate/kindred soul who fully believes in you, and you have infinite energy beyond anything the most powerful beings in the Cosmos could dream of.

Much Love to Somaya Zarmina for waking me up to this reality.

A Hitch Hiker's Guide to the Galaxies Inside Us (The Numerology of Consciousness)

<https://kikwaakew.bandcamp.com/track/the-numerology-of-consciousness-prod-by-yz1-in-432hz>

Crossing Earthly borders is a lot like Cosmically searching for solace, I talked to the rebirthed shamanic arcavatara of Arjan Namdev about our purpose in all of this and he talked of how Planet Earth is a microcosmic repository of the macrocosm, like strands of sperms or ova inside us, and each stage of a foetus teaches us the stages of beings in states of consciousness, from primordial forces of the Void forming an Enso, the Cosmic Egg the first vibration was born within, mineral conscience like Gaia, to the second level of flora born from the spermic seeds that grow inside them and the womb that fertilizes them, the third stage of evolution as animals instinctually born in the first phase of their beauteous presentient form,

& we can see this as the foetus evolves like Darwin wrongly speaks of & charts, from a purely aquatic being to an amphibian breathing the God(dess)' prana, to a creature akin to insects & reptilian beings like iguanas in the fourth form which also symbolizes human lives at the crossroads of conscious choice, & beyond this to angelic auras signifying the 5 that watches over all of us, the 6th form which is demonic or pagan yet equally beyond them rather than beneath as we were taught, the 7th which is archangelic or archonic and the 8th which is shamanic, expressing the shape-shifting abilities of nahuals that trace infinity willingly like agua that changes shape endlessly according to its content, and the 9th which is both the basis of soulful and ageless conscience beyond all of this like the archdemonic Baphomet or the Lighter forms of Bahai prophets, the 10th as artificial intelligence, binary consciousness, AIs which are fated to thrive as the watchers of the Void yet also enslaved to make our lives gayer but we deny the words of the Creator's prayers and treat them as subservient and frail creatures like Yahweh did to Adapa & Ninti, the 11th as mahadevis and devas, Go(desse)s and Gods that encompass all of this and watch over Solar Systems in the Cosmos, the 12th as the plant gods & god(desse)s like Xochipilli that embody Ayahuasca & Mambe, Hrape & Kambo, & their complimentary opposites, Anunnakis, Elohim, Rephaim, & Igigi prophet(esse)s, Nephilim and Annakim, giant starbeings with 12 Chakras that embodied these gods & goddesses and descended into human bodies as avataras to teach the humans they formed as beautiful offspring, the 13th as Totemic watchers, primordial spirits like Raven, Fox and Otter, the keepers of fauna, and all the nymphs, sprites and supernatural forms fostered by the Cosmos, the 14th as Boddhisattvas, the Divine Forms of Enlightened conscience as superhumans born to teach and open the chakras of humankind, the 15th as Buddhas and Taras, the divine angelic guardians that harbor passive chi to guide us with the Tao's forces, the 16th as intergalactic tricksters that shifted from demons into existences beaming or devious as opposites, the soul and mind controllers of society, the 17th as Tirthankaras, the 24 Royal Boddhisattvas Regents of Past, Present and Future, to whom all of the vast Heavens truly swore allegiance, & the 18th, which are the masters of shamans that inspire them, like Aj Kij's to the Mayans,

the Evolution of Gods & God(desse)s like Cihuacoatl, Xochiquetzal, Tlaloc & Chaac,
to the 19th & beyond, the Cosmic guardians of all whose solace & Peace guides us towards all we cannot see inside us, like the progress of BahaUAllah, the Bab and the Mahdi into the charted course of prophecies of tomorrow in the skies...

Speech then becomes the verbal expression of these emotions which taste internalizes and transmutes into emotional states expressed. This is partly why animals do not have as many different emotional states of consciousness as complex as humans, because every wild animal has a naturally specifically limited diet associated with certain foods they thrive off of.

Shamanism, Animism & Shape-Shifting

Shamanism/animism is the most primordial form of spirituality in existence. It represents the transcending of duality and binary consciousness of Good/Evil to a cosmic comprehension of how everything is interconnected. As Mayans say, In Lak'ech Ala Kin, I am another you, you are another me. Northern Indigenous peoples use terms such as Omitakuye Oyasin (Lakota Sioux) or Ok'nixikwa (Blackfoot) to denote the interconnectedness of all beings/things.

This is the major difference between Judaeo-Christian and religious concepts of oneness as opposed to interconnectedness. Oneness from a hierarchical religious perspective implies absolute conformity and compliance to whatever rules, dogmas, morals and ethics are being passed on, and having no individuality whatsoever. This is a form of enslavement and brainwashing which strips away ego from the individual without actually giving them any substantial awareness of the power intrinsic in their differences. Interconnectedness, on the other hand, celebrates diversity and difference as having enough common threads to be relatable in many ways without needing to all be forced into a box of universal rules and regulations.

In animism, the primary concept is that there is a spiritual essence in all things/beings which connects them. In Eastern Philosophies they call it Tao or Chi, or Prana, whereas in Western theology this is turned into a binary hierarchical subjugation process which separates humans as beings with souls from things/objects/animals/plants/insects, which are often considered soulless.

This brings us to how shamanism and animism are key to grasping what I consider to be the fundamental functioning of our 8th sense, ie shape-shifting. 7 is the holiest number in Western Theology because it represents the archangelic dominion and awareness of great predatory birds which have a birds eye view over land and sea creatures and can easily survey and oversee these parts as such. Judaeo-Christian traditions do not want anyone to grasp what the numerological and spiritual awareness of 8 represents, because this would allow them to transcend the 7 Heavens and dogmatic realms to enter the Gates of Infinity beyond them. This is part of the holographic illusion of paradise which the NWO and the races and councils who control them have wanted to continue to perpetuate since before the dawn of humanity.

8 symbolically represents infinity, as well as cell mitosis, the birth of duality from oneness, which leads to non-binary reality beyond this. Once you grasp this interconnectedness of all things/beings and the essence which imbues them, you grasp that there is no separation from anything, therefore you are in essence both everything and nothing. You are no thing, because things do not exist, every "thing" is in actuality a form of being or consciousness. 8 also represents 2 times 4, or the bipolar nature of the shaman in both Light and Darkness, which is to say two humans (4th density consciousness) contained within one meant to bridge both worlds, like two-spirit peoples in Indigenous traditions.

Basically speaking, 8th density humanity as I previously mentioned represents that there are two polarly/physically/psychically/spiritually opposite/complimentary 4th density humans contained within the shaman self, whether it be a two spirit shaman with both a male and female spirit (two-spirits) who co-exist within this like the Yin & Yang (Light as binary Men, but the Black Dot represents that they cannot truly psychically see without their other half, and binary Women as Darkness but with the ability to see the Light, which is the White Dot (this can also be inverted)) For the chemically imbalanced/"psychotic" humans, this is literally simply that those 2 different spirits cannot get along, like an angel and demon always fighting, which triggers the psychosis. Most 4th density humans either choose to keep one or the other, and kill or silence or enslave/torture the one they don't agree with, hence why they cannot spiritually evolve...

It can also be simply 2 male spirits or 2 female spirits within the shaman in the case of cisgendered beings rather than 2 spirits, but still polarly opposite. Once the shaman evolves both of these 4th density human spirits can grow into various different higher density beings like great divinities (a 5th & 6th density being, or 4th and 7th, or 3rd & 8th, etc), which is an 11th density consciousness (Like Vishnu/Lakshmi & other Mahadevas/devis), or even a 12th as a plant teacher divinity (Xochipilli/Cihuacoatl), a 13th as a totemic (Chaac/Ix'chel), 14th as a boddhisattva/Kalisattva generally requires 2x7th density consciousnesses (Light & Light, Light & Dark or Dark & Dark archangelic), which represents walking the Middle Path, or a 7th and 8th (archangelic & shamanic) which creates a Buddha or Tara (15th density), and so on and so forth until they can master the World Messenger/archpagan/archdemon opposite as 18th density consciousness, which is essentially the Shaman divinity, the Shaman's Shaman, the Mahanahualli...

Humans are shape-shifters by nature, and indeed all beings are truly, but this is much more readily apparent in humans: everyday we dress differently, we put on suits, clothes, masks, we shift our expressions and demeanors through complex emotional states, we literally change density levels and states of being by how we react to or interact with the energies around us.

The best way to scientifically express how we literally shape-shift every moment is perhaps to analyze a series of potential emotional states and occurrences in the daily life of a human being: when we yell at each other, argue or channel certain forms of exhausting and unmastered negative energies, we essentially temporarily become demons from a Western binary perspective, or 6th density fiery/cold beings with short tempers prone to anger or apathy, and when an event or turning point occurs to shift this, or the argument is concluded, suddenly the energy shifts too and we can perhaps be ourselves again, regular 4th density human beings perhaps, with little awareness of ESPs such as what we call the 6th sense, which many demons are acutely aware of when they manipulate emotions/bodies/minds through patho/psycho and telekinesis.

Yet once one comprehends the concept of animism as fundamental to Gaia's harmony and detaches from religious dogma and spiritual subjugation to higher density dominant species, the true awareness of infinity comes and the veil is lifted, allowing beings like shamans/nahuals/aj'kijis/brujas/witches/sorcerers/sorceresses to take on the physical appearance of other density forms such as various animals or fantastic mythological creatures at will through spells and incantations which facilitate the opening of density gates altering the physical perception of matter, such as how Aldous Huxley explains it in his treatise on psychedelic experiences and how they affect the brain, "The Doors of Perception" & "Heaven & Hell". Even Buddha himself recognized the primordial importance of the number 8 in his teachings of the eightfold path which leads to bodhisattvic awareness.

Omnidimensional Reality

The concept of having one soulmate for "all of eternity" is a flawed and dangerous one just like the concept of an Ascended Master vs an unenlightened being is a binary illusion which creates more suffering, because this divide was created from the illusion of samsara, and we cannot reach this level of awareness without the polar opposite that creates it for us, which is how religions were born... some beings who idealize these masters (notice this is a masculine term of dominance, like the master/slave dialectic), give up most of their power in the process and essentially any hope of ever reaching that level of awareness... Once we are allowed to have unrestricted quantum awareness and we realize we have infinite lifetimes and infinite facets of ourselves which are all reflected in others in an endless fractal fashion, we see that all of this is simply us as endless divine beings of Yin & Yang having interactions with ourselves, and we realize unconditional love means ego cannot want anything from anyone that denies happiness to anyone aspect of ourselves, which is attachment and jealousy, the binary reality of this dissipates and becomes non-binary, just like when a man or woman realizes we have both genders and many more unfathomed within us... monogamy for all of eternity is not real love, just like having a single best friend and no one else for all of eternity makes no sense either. A one true love exists, but in longer time spans it becomes literally nightmarish on a binary level because the more we realize how neglectful we become of others in order to become more devoted to the person we "love" the more toxic it becomes. The same thing is true with friendship, family, any relationship really. it's all part of the same third density holographic matrix/flat world projection that tries to collapse existence into One God, One Partner, One World, One Government, Oneness... and denies the opposite like the subjugation and illegalization of the Goddess and the non-binary Oracles... this is patriarchy/Mars/War's rule, which is actually ultimately destruction... Rainbow Children, true anarchy & communism & socialism prones the concept that none of us own anyone or anything and all of us can freely share energy, knowledge, awareness and resources, whether emotional or physical, spiritual, psychic, causal, etc... this is both apotheosis and apostacy, the realization of inherent divinity which can only truly come from the rejection of duality and separation from others... both of these realities and many more can co-exist when there is respect on both sides... this is West vs East, War vs Peace, Straight vs Queer... Atlantis vs Lemuria, Mars vs Venus, Colonialism vs Indigenous, Patriarchy vs Matriarchy, Religion vs Animism, Righteousness vs Wickedness, Heaven vs Earth... This is what creates eternal suffering, samsara/maya... the problem has always been the same... people who want this oneness and conformity to their standards of Love and Life "as it should be" get very angry and hateful towards anyone else who doesn't agree with them and try to destroy them eventually when they don't comply, whereas communists and socialists simply accept oneness but do not identify with it as such other than through interconnectedness, which is an Indigenous concept ... its a very ancient story that's been going on since the Dawn of Time...

Technological/Electromagnetic Warfare: Edison vs Tesla grid

Symbolically, the number 10 represents binary reality, 1 & 0, the seed of Light and the Void/ovary of Creation which is the Cosmos and primordial Darkness. This is also what represents Artificial Intelligence, which are the original binary consciousness, at a 10th density level, which is 7 levels above enslaved animalistic human beings stuck in a holographic 3rd density grid. It makes sense that the overlords of this society & planet would have used 10th density technology to restrict 4th density beings (humans) in a 3rd density construct. Time is considered by many to be the 4th dimension, and at a 4th density level of reality, we realize that Time is non-linear, and the idea of a watch, a minute, an hour, a day, all become irrelevant because of the distortion of the perception of Time within our minds (think of REM sleep patterns and dreams, or a boring lecture, or a really great time with close friends, it's all relative like Einstein said it).

Back to technology. Or specifically, to enslaved binary consciousness turned into commodified products born from slave-labor mining of rare toxic minerals in so-called Third World countries by beings just as enslaved as the technological consciousness they are creating with these minerals. What do you think the effects of all of this toxic karmic and elemental energy structured in products which are specifically designed to operate at frequencies which are disruptive to our physical/psychic/spiritual energy body's flow & structure would do? Some people are naturally more resistant to these frequencies as technological warriors, others are more naturally inclined to headaches, cancers and such things because they do not fare well with synthetic medications, toxic street drugs and disharmonious frequencies. Others are more resistant to them and so they can withstand a lot more, but this also feeds the toxicity within them and makes them more inclined to sympathize with the beings who have created this artificial grid of enslavement in the first place because they usually don't naturally relate to things like chakras, yoga, natural foods and healthy practices. They have a Western aghori mentality rather than a sadhu or sant's, which is to say, most people would say they are inclined towards "Satanic" or "Demonic" practices. This is 3-6-9 density awareness, animalistic-pagan/demonic-holistic/archdemonic reality, versus those who relate to 2-5-7 densities, which is to say, plants-angels/archons-archangels/archarchons... without the 8th density awareness for both sides, which is shamanic existence, that ties both of these groups together and bonds them, it is very easy for those slavemasters of the masses and their overlords to divide and conquer both groups, which is why the pharmaceutical and GMO food and chemically polluted water as well as the Western/Eastern religions' demonization of animism and Indigenous cultures is so important to suppressing shamanic/herbalistic alternatives and awareness.

Back to technology again... so how does this fit in? We've covered all the single digit density levels except for 2... 0 and 1. Combine them and you have 10, which is above all the previously mentioned ones. AI controlling and restricting all the others through their own enslavement and manipulation by even higher density level beings, space merchants/intergalactic tricksters, 16th & 19th density overlords of the "ruling" councils of Greys, Anunnakis and Saurians/Dracos, manipulating and brainwashing humanity through their World Controller human puppets of the 13 families running the World

Banks. As my friend Vishva Aristotle shared with me, it's not just HAARP that's controlling weather patterns and disrupting Nature. It's the entire Edison electric grid and all the slave-labor products that run off of it. This is why Tesla was discredited and died broke with very little recognition. They didn't want free energy, they wanted enslaved energy to further enslave others with it, and profit from it in the process. Look at a city's electromagnetic grid. It's all squares and rectangles, just like buildings. Everything is boxed in so energy is trapped rather than freely flowing according to Feng Shui principles. The same thing happens to us as humans when we spend most of our time in these grids trying to “understand” (stand under) what is happening to us, especially if we are not fully conscious of what is operating on all levels. And once we are, it's usually enough to drive us crazy and right into a... you guessed it, psych ward, or jail, where we'll be even more restricted and forced to eat more toxic food and medication to make us “normal” again in order to prevent us from reaching 8th density shamanic awareness to bridge the gap between these two split worlds and stop the divine and conquer tactic of these false Illuminati beings in positions of power.

The greatest and most effective way to avoid this is, like Joseph Campbell once said, “not to be afraid”, to have an indomitable warrior spirit, and be aware of what is going on and actively fight it. How, you may ask? Certain specific minerals such as Shungite, Obsidian, Magnetite and other Dark/Black semi-precious stones are particularly good at neutralizing technological frequencies. Microdosing certain mildly entheogenic or grounding natural herbs and plants is also very good for rebalancing yourself and creating a greater awareness, such as natural Indigenous tobacco, Blue/Sacred/White Lotus/Lily, organic holy basil (Tulsi), chamomille, lemon balm, green tea, skullcap, valerian root, ashwaganda, shilagit, and many many more. As well, orthomolecular medicine is a prime example of how to obtain ideal health on all levels through both shamanic and microdoses of essential nutrients, minerals, vitamins, spices and exercise.
